Time for the tetanus victims to be numbered.

Bryan lives at "Fairview," which ought to give him a good outlook.

The tops of Vermont's mountains ought to be popular places now.

It's like taking wormwood, but Alton B. Parker will vote for Bryan and Kern this fall.

Rutland will have to put a closed season on health officers if irate citizens continue to hunt them.

American marksmen carry off the international shooting honors. Another reason to "leave us alone."

Peculiarly enough, it is not alone a water famine, but a milk famine as well, that is threatened in these burning times.

One-eighth of the Vermont delegation to the Denver convention did not vote at all and will have lots to explain when it gets back to the state.

Grover Cleveland didn't die so near pauperism as some of the sensational press would have us believe; not when he could leave over fifty thousand dollars to his children and still have a "residue." That was a "poor" yarn and no mistake.

The Democratic vice-presidential candidate has tasted defeat before, when he ran for governor of Indiana; so he will not have a new sensation in the event of his failure at the polls next election.

For hot weather digestion read this kindly advice from the Bennington Banner to the Rutland Herald: "We trust that The Herald is being properly cared for in its present unfortunate mental condition. If we can do anything to restore its poise, it is at liberty to call on us at any hour of day or night. We should be shocked and grieved beyond measure if we thought for an instant that its case were hopeless. For the sake of its friends we hope it will keep in out of the hot sun and be careful what it eats until after dog days."

PREVENT FOREST FIRES.

There is a very pressing need of caution just at this time regarding forest fires, as the events of yesterday hereabouts plainly show. Vegetation has become dried and seared because of the prevailing drought and flames spread with marvelous rapidity and are stayed only by the utmost exertion. So those who go into the fields and the woodlands need to exercise the greatest care lest by their act a blaze shall be kindled that will develop into a conflagration. The Vermont statutes have endeavored to guard against the destruction of our valuable forests by imposing a penalty on the careless; saying, a person who builds a fire in or adjoining any woods shall totally extinguish such fire before leaving it on penalty of a fine of not more than fifty dollars or thirty days' imprisonment, or both. So much for the careless firebug. Over and beyond that enactment is another which applies to the willful incendiary, the one who touches match to woodland or forest. That person does so at a penalty of $500 fine or five years' imprisonment.

Of course the most important thing on earth is the boy!

But, regardless of legal penalties, there ought to be enough sense of decency and caution in all of us to make the imposition of the penalties unnecessary. Let's be careful.

WANT TO ENTER LEAGUE.

Burlington Would Like to Come in With Barre and Montpelier.

Burlington, July 13.—Members of the Burlington Independents, a local amateur base ball club, and teams in St. Albans, Barre and Montpelier are trying to organize a summer league and to have the teams play at least every Saturday. The Burlington team is made up as follows: Manager and second base, Harry F. Perkins; left field, O'Brien; short stop, Hughes; pitcher, Frank Smith; third base, Moore; center field, Monahan; right field, Burke; catcher, Ahern. This sort of ball could probably be conducted very inexpensively and while the play would be far from league style, most fans would prefer it to none at all.

Worthen BlockORDER THEM ABOLISHED.

Two Dangerous Grade Crossings on Boston & Maine R. R. at Fairlee.

The state board of railroad commissioners has ordered a double grade crossing in the town of Fairlee, near Fairlee mountain, to be established by construction of a connecting section of public highway. This order was made on petition of the Boston & Maine railroad against the town of Fairlee, and a hearing was held on the petition at Fairlee on June 23, following which the board decided that public safety required the abolishment of both crossings.

The work must be completed on or before December 1, 1908 and done to the satisfaction of the board. The railroad is ordered to file, within ten days of the completion of that work, an itemized account of the cost of the construction; and the cost shall be borne by the town of Fairlee, the state of Vermont and the Boston & Maine railroad, in the following proportion, Fairlee 10 per cent; state of Vermont 25 per cent; Boston & Maine railroad, 65 per cent.

The commissioners have also ordered a double crossing on the Woodstock railroad, just north of the station in Woodstock, abolished as the public safety demands it. This action was taken on a petition of the selectmen of Woodstock. The crossings will be abolished by means of constructing a connecting section of highway.

DIDN'T APPRECIATE JOKE.

Attorney Hooker Handed a Lemon in a Suit Case; He Sues.

Brattleboro, July 13.—An action at law was brought Saturday by James F. Hooker, one of the most prominent attorneys in the state and a member of one of its oldest and wealthiest families, against Mrs. Margaret Gatty, prominent in social circles here. The case arose from a joke perpetrated by the young woman upon the busy young attorney, and suit is brought to obtain fees which he alleges are due.

The lawyer was consulted by telephone upon what appeared to be a plausible situation in which the defendant said that she had been swindled out of a sum of money, and that the alleged swindler had left a handbag. It was her desire to ascertain the contents in the hope that she might gain some knowledge of the identity of the guilty person. The attorney hastened to her house and strongly denouncing the affair demanded the handbag. To his surprise he found only a lemon in the bag.

PLAINFIELD.

Mrs. Elmer Kelley of Ellsworth Falls is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tucker.

The funeral services of the late William Gove were held at his home Sunday afternoon, Rev. P. B. Fisk officiating.

Miss Kent of New Hampshire is visiting her sister, Mrs. Orlando Martin.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hatchelder of Barre spent Sunday with Mr. Emma Hatchelder.
